PACIFIC YEARLY MEETING
Representative Committee
March 3, 1990, Palo Alto, California

Jane Walters Peers, Presiding Clerk
Marilee Eusebio, Assistant Clerk
Jamie Newton, Representative Committee Recording Clerk

Jane Peers, Presiding Clerk, opened the meeting at 8:30 a.m. with silent worship. The Clerk welcomed us and invited all present to introduce themselves. An attendance record was circulated. (Attach. RepCom-A)

Rep Com 90-1 The tentative agenda for Representative Committee was approved after minor revisions. (Attach. RepCom-B)

COMMITTEE TO NAME THE NOMINATING COMMITTEE

Laura Magnani, Stratton Jaquette, and Jean Walton were nominated as the Committee to Name the Nominating Committee, with David Tappan as an alternate member. These nominees will be considered for approval later today.

TREASURER’S REPORT

Virginia and Walter Klein presented the Treasurer’s Report for fiscal years 1989 and 1990, including a balance sheet for the period October 1, 1988 through September 30, 1989 (Attach. RepCom-C). We were advised that a transfer from the reserves reflects a decision to "lose" money in the present in order to compensate for a previous excess of income over expenses. Our attention was drawn to highlights of the report, and we were cautioned that column 5 (expenses for Oct. 1 1989 to 2/15/90) shows too small a portion of the 1990 expenses to be very informative. Line 5254 shows a contribution of $1500 to FWCC for FY 1989, compared to a budgeted contribution of $1,000, because our 1989 contribution included a special fiftieth anniversary gift of $500 to FWCC that was not paid when it was originally allocated several years ago.

The Finance Committee was asked to review the adequacy of the fourteen cents per mile travel compensation now provided to Yearly Meeting officers. The Treasurer noted that the Finance Committee has recently done so, and found that this amount is adequate for most travelers.

Rep Com 90-2 The Treasurer’s Report was accepted.
REPORTS AND CONCERNS OF CONSTITUENT MEETINGS

Ellie Huffman, Clerk of College Park Quarterly Meeting, presented a report summarizing the quarter’s condition, activities, and concerns (Attach. RepCom-D). College Park Quarterly Meeting is vigorously involved with a variety of social and spiritual issues, and has been especially exercised by efforts to respond to the needs of John Woolman School and to find light in the dialogue on same-sex marriage.

Phyllis Jones presented a report on the condition and activities of Southern California Quarterly Meeting, which currently has no clerk (Attach. Repcom-E). This was a year of self-examination and renewal for the quarter, with encouraging fellowship and an emerging vision for the future.

Polly Pool reported that Honolulu Monthly Meeting is growing and dynamic, with numerous projects, searching inquiry together for shared direction on matters as diverse as preparation for death, membership, and marriage, and receptiveness to the ministry of others. (Attach. RepCom-F.)

Allen Karcher brought a letter to California Senator Cranston (approved by the Peace and Social Order Committee of Southern California Quarterly Meeting, and by the PYM Peace Committee) and a minute on the national budget (which has not been approved by the two committees). Both were originated by La Jolla Meeting. It is hoped that monthly meetings will consider these items and act as they deem appropriate. (Attach. RepCom-G.)

Zelda Grubbs, Representative of Westwood Meeting, presented a concern for the future of Pacific Ackworth School. Time was requested during a PYM plenary session for a report from the Pacific Ackworth Foundation, and for an interest group on Pacific Ackworth School.

A Friend observed that numerous meetings seem to be confronting similar issues — notably same-sex marriage — in isolation. Can we find ways of sharing our search?

John MacKinney, Representative of Berkeley Meeting, asked that plenary session time at PYM be provided for reports from FCL and FCNL.

We were advised that periodic audits of monthly meeting finances are desirable, and it was suggested that time at PYM be provided for attention to this matter and for consultation among financial officers of Quaker organizations and of our monthly and quarterly meetings. It was recommended that procedures for PYM assessments be written and conveyed to the monthly and quarterly meetings, and to worship groups.
REPORT OF THE PRESIDING CLERK

The Clerk asked Friends to be ready to consider the minutes for approval at the end of this session, so that approval can be given by those who conducted our business while memories are still fresh. We will see if this procedure meets our needs.

The Clerk guided us through our tentative schedule for the summer PYM sessions. Marty Walton will be our invited guest at PYM. It is hoped that this presentation, the theme of which is still emerging in consultation with the Ministry and Oversight Committee, will be of interest to younger Friends, encouraging their participation in plenary sessions. The Wednesday evening time assigned to interest groups and the Thursday evening time assigned to standing committees were switched.

It has been proposed that a barn dance be held during the Wednesday evening period when standing committees will meet, to promote a sense of community among PYM attenders who do not meet with standing committees. Concerns were expressed that this might discourage non-members of committees from attending committee sessions of interest to them, and that an effect of this schedule might be to make the dance more exclusively for youth (rather than an intergenerational event). Our discussion ranged over varied aspects of business and fellowship, and moved to the new idea of an invited speaker and a theme for our PYM gathering. The history of the plan for a speaker and theme was reviewed, and hope was expressed that we could approach this prospect with openness as an experiment whose value we can then assess. We were reminded that we have some history of inviting Friends to serve our Yearly Meeting as special resource people, and that PYM has a budget for "invited guests" which is traditionally used for this purpose.

We were asked to consider more radical changes in our schedule, with preparation that could enable us to devote much less time to business and more time to fellowship and spiritual sharing. Stratton Jaquette, former Presiding Clerk, asked that standing committees advise the Clerk if they actually plan to meet on the Sunday morning before the Yearly Meeting opens. Few have done so in the past. Standing committee time midway through the week has mainly been used for completion of business committees could not finish prior to the Yearly Meeting sessions. We were urged to retain the qualities of spontaneity and intimate involvement in business and activities that have been characteristic of this Yearly Meeting, as opposed to a more formalized and rigid style.
The Clerk suggested that we use the term "invited guest" rather than "keynote speaker" or "Friend in Residence." Marty Walton is aware that the theme of our Yearly Meeting usually emerges from our Committee on Ministry and Oversight, and her expectation is that she will frame her remarks with input and inspiration from that Committee. Ministry and Oversight Committee was asked to consider whether a session addressed by an invited guest is a plenary session, beginning and ending with worship and minuted, or whether it is a different kind of event.

Rep Com 90-3 The term "invited speaker" was accepted as a designation for the person who will address us in a plenary session.

The Clerk described the rationale for changes in the tentative PYM schedule, compared to schedules we have followed in recent years, as an attempt to more fully reflect the special character of this Yearly Meeting by giving greater emphasis to fellowship and intergenerational conviviality.

Rep Com 90-4 The tentative PYM schedule was provisionally approved, with several revisions. Final approval will occur at the meeting of the Representative Committee on July 29, 1990. (Attach. RepCom-H)

ARRANGEMENTS, PLANS, AND PROGRAM REQUESTS FOR PYM 1990

Eric Moon, Arrangements Clerk, apprised us of conditions we can expect at Craig Hall Complex in Chico this summer, including an asbestos removal program and a new food manager. Friends with responsibilities for which special arrangements are needed were asked to communicate with Eric Moon. Eric will be assisted by a team of people with specific functions, such as oversight of the communications center or the arts and crafts center. To schedule an event, Friends should speak first to Marilee Eusebio, Assistant Clerk, for a time; then to Margaret Mossman, Assistant Arrangements Clerk, who will arrange space; and finally, to Hank Maiden, Secretariat Manager, to be sure the Secretariat includes news of the events in printed materials.

REGISTRATION FEES

Joe Magruder, Registrar, reported a fee schedule he determined jointly with the Finance Committee. These fees were increased by $3.00 over fees charged for our last meeting in Chico, in recognition that losing money is not our objective this year. The family maximum is three times the daily individual charge.
Pacific Yearly Meeting - Representative Committee - 3/90 minutes

- $33 dorm plus 3 meals
- 25 camp plus 3 meals
- 22 camp plus L, D
- 16 camp plus L
- 12 camp, no meals
- 16 day plus L, D
- 10 day plus L
- 5 day, no meals

Robert Young reported that the Finance Committee has received requests from the Secretariat and the Children’s Program for increased funding for Yearly Meeting functions that would, if approved, call for an average increase of 60 cents per day in each of the fees proposed here in order to keep the Yearly Meeting sessions self-supporting. Decisions on these requests were deferred until after we hear from the Secretariat and the Children’s Program later today.

The minutes of this session were approved after several revisions.

Following a break for lunch, the meeting resumed at 1:35 p.m. with silent worship.

SITES COMMITTEE

Roberta Hogan, assisted by Margaret Mintz, described the University of Redlands (near San Bernardino) as well suited to our needs. The costs could be considerably greater than our 1990 costs at Chico. Although there were suggestions that we might reduce our total expenses by shortening the Yearly Meeting or reducing our space needs, it was apparent that we had too little information to make a decision on this site today. We were asked to consider creative ways of financing our Yearly Meeting sessions, a second year at Chico, and alternatives to our present practice such as holding several days of business sessions in a major city complemented by a non-business week of camping. Ellie Foster, Clerk of the Ministry and Oversight Committee’s ad hoc committee on structure, proposed that the ad hoc committee hold an interest group at PYM on alternatives to our traditional form of annual gathering.

The University of Redlands requires a decision by March 10, 1990. Many Friends are averse to returning to La Verne University, in part because its facilities are not adequate for our children. A second year at Chico may be possible, although repeated travel to Chico is more difficult for Friends from Southern California. We were asked to think imaginatively about the possibilities open to us -- for example, lodging at the La Verne campus but meeting in a large, nearby church.
The Representative Committee approved the following actions with respect to the search for a 1991 site:

1. The Sites Committee was asked to tentatively reserve Craig Hall Complex at Chico and the University of Redlands for a week in August, 1991, so that they will be available to us if needed, informing both facilities fully of our circumstances.

2. The Sites Committee was asked to explore Redlands as soon as possible, to think creatively about our meeting arrangements, and to bring a recommendation to the Yearly Meeting in August. As part of this exploration, the Sites Committee was asked to confer with Southern California Friends experienced in the Yearly Meeting’s financing, arrangements, and the Children’s Program. Suggested consultants were: Pat Wolff, Walt Jones, Becky Layfield, Walter and Virginia Klein.

CHILDREN’S PROGRAM COMMITTEE AND COORDINATOR

Arden Pierce, Clerk of the Children’s Program Committee, introduced Linda Koenig, who will again serve as Coordinator of the Children’s Program. The Children’s Program Committee has requested budget increases of $350 for staff and $150 for supplies. More space is needed than was available last year. Because the program will begin on Sunday afternoon, staff will arrive Saturday evening for a planning meeting. Last year’s worship-fellowship groups with children were a success and will be repeated this year, beginning Monday. A life guard will be available at the pool whenever it is open. Televisions will be available only for Program videotapes. The Committee’s report is attached (Attach. RepCom I). Linda described the successful approach the Program has taken to resolve problems that arose last year due to space limitations.

JUNIOR YEARLY MEETING AND JUNIOR HIGH FRIENDS

Jack Huffman reported (with Kendra Anderson and Maria Koenig) that plans for Junior Yearly Meeting are being developed, informed by notes from last year’s advisors. Activities under consideration were outlined.
YOUNG FRIENDS

Diane Dunn, Co-Clerk of Young Friends, told us that Young Friends find it difficult to evolve a sense of community because many of their number are heavily involved in activities of the larger Yearly Meeting. The Young Friends are seeking ways of becoming more integrated with the Yearly Meeting as a whole, without losing their coherence as a Young Friends group. The Young Friends requested time in the Yearly Meeting schedule for an intergenerational interest group with the Committee on Unity with Nature, and for interest groups primarily for Young Friends on Young Friends of North America and on Young Friends service to the world.

SECRETARIAT COMMITTEE

Kim Lacey and Sandy Farley, Co-Clerks of the Secretariat Committee, presented a report on the Committee's plans and needs (Attach. RepCom-J). A budget augmentation of $400 was requested for additional staffing and equipment maintenance.

RECORDING CLERKS: CONCERNS ON MINUTES

In preparation for this Representative Committee meeting, the Clerks asked Friends to think about our current practices of recording, reading, and approving minutes. Ruth Peters, PYM Co-Recording Clerk, asked that we find a way to respond to these issues. The Yearly Meeting Recording Clerks are convinced that meetings for worship should not be considered plenary sessions for which minutes are taken, and they have also requested that reports submitted in writing be referred to as attachments rather than summarized as well. Ron Sax, PYM Co-Recording Clerk, advised that minutes be read immediately after the discussions recorded in them, rather than being held for reading at the conclusion of an entire session.

While considering the recommendation that Yearly Meeting meetings for worship not be minuted, we were advised that these are properly labeled as plenary sessions without the conduct of business. It has been our practice in the past to simply note that these plenary sessions for worship took place, but some recording clerks have felt moved to record more of the content of ministry. Can we leave the nature of recording during meetings for worship to the discretion of the recording clerks? We were reminded that by designating a session as a "plenary session," we state our intention to avoid scheduling other events that would coincide with the session; whatever the label, we should be sure that other events do not conflict with the times reserved for worship. We were also reminded that all minutes are the responsibility of the Presiding Clerk and the Recording Clerks, to whom we will entrust determination of satisfactory recording of our meetings for worship which do not include the conduct of business.
MINISTRY AND OVERSIGHT COMMITTEE

Kitty Barragato presented a written report (Attach. RepCom-K), including summaries of subcommittee activities and requests for interest groups. The Clerk commented that the charge to the ad hoc subcommittee on structure needs to be enlarged in light of our discussion today, and asked the Ministry and Oversight Committee to bring a revised charge to the Representative Committee.

FRIENDS BULLETIN COMMITTEE

David Wilson asked for a brief period of PYM plenary session time, and urged Friends to share their search for light on concerns through the "Friends for 300 Words" column in the Friends Bulletin.

DISCIPLINE COMMITTEE

Laura Magnani told us that the Discipline Committee is between revisions of Faith and Practice, receiving input from Friends and considering issues that will ultimately be addressed by a discipline revision committee. No plenary session time will be requested this year.

The subject of junior membership was omitted from the 1985 edition of Faith and Practice. The Discipline Committee did not wish to revive the status of "junior membership," but proposed a minute on the status of children in PYM:

All children of the Meeting are from birth under its loving care. Each is considered a "child of the Meeting" and recorded as such -- in the monthly meeting, and in the records of the PYM Statistical Clerk.

Our discussion identified some ambiguity in this minute. It was noted that our directories list both members and attenders with their children and the children's birth dates, so that there may be no purpose to be served by asking the Statistical Clerk to record them as well. The Statistical Clerk informed us that the listing of children in directories is not comprehensive, since meetings vary in their recording policies -- many recording only children who attend meeting events. There being no unity among us to recommend that the Yearly Meeting approve this minute, no action was taken.

The Discipline Committee reminded us that the text on membership in Faith and Practice is intended as a source of guidance, rather than a codification. Membership decisions are the province of the monthly meeting and the individual.
YOUNG FRIENDS OF NORTH AMERICA

Jacole Norton, our Representative to YFNA, advised us that the YFNA annual gathering will be held July 22-29, 1990, in Arizona. Following a break for dinner, the meeting resumed at 6:45 p.m. with worship.

PEACE COMMITTEE

Allan Karcher presented a written report (Attach. RepCom-L). In unity with Young Friends, the Peace Committee recommended that a vigil be held on Wednesday, August 1, 1990, at Chico, to express our care for the integrity of creation. Laura Mahal will coordinate for Young Friends as this committee makes preparations for the vigil. Initiation of a vigil would be a policy decision the Representative Committee cannot make for the Yearly Meeting. It was noted that the Peace Committee can plan such an activity with the Young Friends, with the Unity With Nature Committee, and/or with other groups within the Yearly Meeting, but a PYM decision to sponsor the vigil would need to be made by the Yearly Meeting.

The Peace Tax Fund is diminishing, we were told, because the government is beginning to collect funds from individuals who have put contested tax money into this account.

UNITY WITH NATURE COMMITTEE

Chuck Orr reported that the Unity With Nature Committee has met twice since August. The Committee works in three areas: (1) worship and development of our religious concern; (2) communicating our concern to others; (3) working with Friends to implement our concern. The Committee’s work in these areas was described. The fifth Unity with Nature Conference will be held at Idylwild, April 20-22, to coincide with Earth Day. It is hoped that each monthly meeting will send a person to the conference.

The Unity With Nature Committee will publish two issues of EarthLight magazine this year, and expects to publish issues quarterly in the future. The Unity With Nature Committee presented a proposal with a budget for a grant of $2,000 to support publication of EarthLight (Attach. RepCom-M).

The Chico Meeting’s Unity With Nature Committee has developed a project to promote protection and restoration of earth’s rainforests. The PYM Unity With Nature Committee encourages Friends traveling abroad to carry materials on this project with them.
The Unity With Nature Committee requested interest groups at PYM, including an opportunity to review the Yearly Meeting’s charge to the Unity With Nature Committee.

The request for funding of EarthLight was referred to the Finance Committee for advice.

A question was raised about the Unity With Nature Committee’s authority to publish a magazine as a Yearly Meeting body without approval by the Yearly Meeting. It was pointed out that publication is part of the Yearly Meeting’s founding charge to the Unity With Nature Committee, and that EarthLight has been under development for more than a year. Our minute 89-4, concerning termination of the Social Order Series, specifies that new Yearly Meeting publications should be approved by the Representative Committee. Some Friends recalled that the Yearly Meeting approved publication of a magazine by the Unity With Nature Committee several years ago. Several Friends urged that the issue of funding be separated from that of authority to publish. Further consideration of this matter was laid over to give Friends an opportunity to investigate the history of Yearly Meeting action with respect to this publication.

SOCIAL ORDER COMMITTEE

Elsa Glines reported on behalf of Marty Carson for the Social Order Committee, outlining the Committee’s plans for interest groups and its request for plenary session time at Yearly Meeting. The report is attached (Attach. RepCom-N).

FRIEND IN THE ORIENT COMMITTEE

Rose Lewis, Clerk of the joint Pacific Yearly Meeting - North Pacific Yearly Meeting Friend in the Orient Committee, recalled for us some of the many contributions to East-West cooperation and service made by Barbara Reynolds, who died in February. The Friend in the Orient Committee is concluding its work related to China, with follow-up by Louis and Lois Hoskins (formerly Friends in the Orient in China) in the form of visits to groups of Friend in the Pacific northwest. Current work focuses on the presence of Russ and Verna Curtis in Micronesia. When they return, they will travel and meet with Friends throughout the two yearly meetings. The Committee’s appeal has financed their work to date, but additional contributions will be needed to support their travels among us. The Committee requested some plenary session time, and interest groups. Publication of "Windows East and West" helps to sustain networking among supporters of the Committee’s work. This publication is self-supporting, at a very modest level of presentation. The Committee is considering changes to its name and to the name of the publication, and suggestions are invited. The Friend in the Orient Committee is considering requesting a $400 grant from PYM to purchase equipment to facilitate publication of the newsletter. The Representative Committee received this request favorably, and referred it to the Finance Committee for advice.

EAST-WEST RELATIONS COMMITTEE

Kay Anderson told us that the East-West Relations Committee has met twice since our August sessions. The Committee is organizing a tour of the U.S.S.R., scheduled for August-September. The Committee sponsored visits to northern and southern California by Tatiana Pavlova, a Friend from Moscow, with co-sponsorship by other groups. Work to share writings between East and West continues. The Committee cultivates western support for the democratization of the Eastern bloc. There is communication with five people in the Soviet Union who consider themselves Quakers, and it is hoped that the opening of travel will make it possible to exchange visits in private homes. The Committee requested time for a report and interest groups at Yearly Meeting.

WIDER FELLOWSHIP AMONG FRIENDS COMMITTEE

Robert Vogel told us that the Wider Fellowship Among Friends Committee held a consultation with appointed representatives from each of seven yearly meetings. These representatives agreed to ask their yearly meetings to support a western gathering of Friends no earlier than 1992, and to appoint representatives.

Robert Vogel presented a minute:

In order to keep PYM fully involved, we approved asking Representative Committee to acknowledge in its minutes PYM’s standing endorsement of a western gathering of Friends and recognize the member and alternates that WFAF appoints to the Planning Group. In personal communication with the Finance Committee, our continuing budget status can be noted. We approved, also, as PYM member of the Planning Group, Paul Niebanck and alternates Gloria Kershner and Robert Vogel.

An interest group was requested at Yearly Meeting, and the Yearly Meeting was encouraged to provide time for dialogue with Marty Walton after her presentation.

Rep Com 90-6

The Representative Committee approved the minute submitted by the Wider Fellowship Among Friends Committee.

FINANCE COMMITTEE

Robert Young reminded us that the Finance Committee felt unable to approve supplemental requests for funding by the Secretariat ($400) and the Children’s Program ($500) without raising fees for attenders at Yearly Meeting by an average of 60 cents per category per day.
The Representative Committee approved a supplemental request of $500 for the Children’s Program, authorizing the Finance Committee and the Registrar to adjust Yearly Meeting attendance fees accordingly. We were aware that the Secretariat’s costs have traditionally been borne by Yearly Meeting attendance fees, although the services provided benefit the entire Yearly Meeting rather than Yearly Meeting attenders only. It was suggested that the Secretariat Committee budget be augmented, and the costs of packet mailing be charged against the Secretariat Committee’s budget.

The Representative Committee approved a supplemental request of $400 for the Secretariat, authorizing the Finance Committee and the Registrar to adjust Yearly Meeting attendance fees accordingly. The Finance Committee was asked to consider alternative ways of supporting the work of the Secretariat.

The Nominating Committee asked that its budget be increased from $1200 to $1550, and the Finance Committee recommended approval.

The Representative Committee approved increasing the Nominating Committee’s budget from $1200 to $1550.

The Discipline Committee requested a budget increase from $400 to $700, and the Finance Committee recommended approval.

The Representative Committee approved increasing the Discipline Committee’s budget from $400 to $700.

The revised schedule of attendance fees, reflecting supplemental budget increases approved by the Representative Committee, is:

- $34 dorm plus 3 meals
- 26 camp plus 3 meals
- 23 camp plus L, D
- 17 camp plus L
- 13 camp, no meals
- 16 day plus L, D
- 10 day plus L
- 5 day, no meals

The Representative Committee approved the revised schedule of attendance fees.

The Unity with Nature Committee requested $2,000 to support publication of EarthLight, with these funds to come from the remainder of earnings from the Social Order Series publications fund. The Finance Committee proposed granting $500 and loaning $500 in seed money from this publications fund to the Unity with Nature Committee for publication of EarthLight, recognizing that there are other Yearly Meeting publications that may need support. We were told that funding at this low level will diminish the ability of the Unity with Nature Committee to raise funds from other sources. We were also reminded that a previous request by the Unity with Nature Committee elicited substantial individual contributions, and the Committee was encouraged to seek individual contributions once again.

Rep Com 90-12 The Representative Committee approved the Finance Committee's recommendation that the Unity With Nature Committee be granted $500 and loaned $500 in seed money to support publication of EarthLight. The loan is to be repaid when publication earnings are sufficient.

In response to a request from Redwood Forest Meeting that the Yearly Meeting establish a Western Meeting House Fund, the Finance Committee proposed that we alert PYM monthly meetings to the existence of the Friends General Conference Meeting House Fund, encouraging Friends to invest in this fund, and inform monthly meetings about how to make use of the Fund.

Rep Com 90-13 The Representative Committee approved the Finance Committee's proposal that we alert PYM monthly meetings to the existence of the Friends General Conference meeting house fund, encourage Friends to invest in this fund, and inform monthly meetings about how to make use of the fund.

We were told that the Finance Committee's evaluation of travel reimbursements continues, taking into account changes in travel costs.

The Meeting approved continuing beyond our scheduled ending time of 9:30 p.m.

NOMINATING COMMITTEE

Lowell Tozer brought a list of nominees for PYM Representatives and Alternates to the three gathering sites of the 1991 World Conference of Friends. (Attach. RepCom-O.)

Rep Com 90-14 The Representative Committee approved the nominees as Representatives and Alternates to the 1991 World Conference of Friends, as submitted by the Nominating Committee.
REPORT FROM THE ASSISTANT CLERK

Marilee Eusebio described the Assistant Clerk's responsibilities for agenda review and analysis of evaluations of the Yearly Meeting. The Assistant Clerk is authorized to co-opt suitable Friends to serve as an agenda review committee, available for consultation on scheduling.

STATISTICAL CLERK

Betty Hall submitted a written report (Attach. RepCom-P). The Statistical Clerk suggested that her report could be eliminated from plenary session time. She suggested that reports that can be put into writing be circulated prior to Yearly Meeting, reducing the need for oral reports. She wondered if there is a need for the Statistical Clerk to attend meetings at which she has no need to report.

REPRESENTATIVE TO FRIENDS WORLD COMMITTEE FOR CONSULTATION

Jeanette Norton reported that our Representatives to FWCC requested 45 minutes of plenary session time to report on two events: (1) the FWCC annual meeting in Washington, D.C., March 14-18, and (2) the July 24-31 First International Theological Conference for Quaker Women at Woodbrooke, England. Jeanette Norton is an invited participant to this conference. The FWCC Representatives also requested one or two interest groups. The next FWCC regional gathering will be held in Southern California in the fall.

REPRESENTATIVE TO AFSC

Asenath Young requested planning time and interest groups on current AFSC activities.

REPRESENTATIVES TO FCNL

Steve Birdlebough reported that our Representatives are working with FCNL to consider what FCNL's priorities should be for congressional action. Monthly meetings will soon receive questionnaires requesting their views.

Rep Com 90-15

The nominees for the Committee to Name the Nominating Committee -- Laura Magnani, Stratton Jaquette, Jean Walton, and David Tappan (as alternate) -- were approved, with Stratton Jaquette to serve as convenor.

OTHER BUSINESS

On the matter of publications, a record of our discussion at Representative Committee session three (page 89-3-4) was brought to our attention.
This session of the Representative Committee closed at 10:00 p.m., to convene again at 3:30 p.m. on July 29, 1990, in Chico, California.

Minutes of business conducted following our break for lunch were read periodically, revised as appropriate, and approved.

Treasurers, Pacific Yearly Meeting
College Park Quarterly Meeting continues to function in several ways: Our Quarterly Meetings provide an opportunity for fellowship among Friends, encouraging spiritual exchange, new relationships, support and the sharing of concerns. Our business in the past year has focused on how the quarter should share financially in concerns that are brought from Monthly Meetings, or Committees; how the Quarter can most effectively support our three Associations, and most particularly John Woolman school, which has experienced a financial crisis of unprecedented proportions this school year due to low enrollment. We provide the major portion of leadership for the Associations through the naming of Quarter participants as Board Members. We have actively sought to strengthen participation of children and teen-agers in Quarterly functions with good results, and have adjusted the fees for our Quarterly meetings to encourage families to participate.

Specific concerns and interests brought before the Quarter this year have included Homelessness, the History of West Coast Friends, the 2% solution for Nicaragua, which is support for a huge truck full of supplies to travel to Nicaragua, where even the truck will remain as a needed supply. We have supported the sharing of a slide show on the Costa Rican Rain Forrest, provided by Susan Hughes to many meetings. Several meetings from the Valley gathered for a rich weekend together at Golden Valley Campground in the Sierra Foothills. Our January Meeting dealt primarily with concern about the future of John Woolman school, we continue to seek the way to future of the School. The Quarter M & O has been responsive to the needs of individual Meetings as called upon. Many Monthly Meetings continue to struggle with decisions concerning same sex marriages, a growing experience for all.

We enjoyed Tatiana Pavlova as she shared views with a number of our Meetings, and have enjoyed sojourners, Joe and Teresina Havens in our midst. Friends House is constructing space for Residential Care, and considering future needs. Ben Lomond Quaker Center promotes a variety of Friendly seminars and workshops in addition to other programs throughout the year. They have added playground equipment this year. We experience a cyclical pattern of needs from emphasis on spiritual growth, to community, to social and peace concerns, and around again. As new members join us we look for ways to share our Quaker faith and practice, both for their learning and for our own renewal and growth.
Ms. Galbraith, new member of the Greater United Nations Committee, she will attend a trip to N.Y. during the year for this purpose. CPWU has deducted $300.00 for accommodations with travel and associated expenses. We recommend consideration of her expenses to the P.Y.M. Fund for Concerns and that no advisory committee, she is prepared to meet with and submit reports to meetings concerning activities of the U.N. Committee. I have attached information about claims and cost estimates with reports to this report.
My name is Clare Galbraith. So that you will know where I have been and be able to credit that experience, I will introduce myself:

I first worked with Quakers in 1968 I believe, with the Friends Outside in Palo Alto. Ten years later I read Josephine Duvenek's book and looked for a Quaker Meeting in Dallas, Texas. I found it.

Since then for five years I represented South Central Yearly Meeting on the AFSC corporation, worked with the Dallas Friends Service Group, and became deeply involved with refugees from Central America using the United Nations High Commission for Refugees criteria.

Before the Dallas Friends Meeting moved into sanctuary, we established through Canadian consulates a legal pathway to Canada. Eventually I lived in Toronto for two years, continuing to work with refugees.

In the summer of 1989 I was invited to join the Quaker United Nations Committee, the only member west of Austin, Texas. My masters thesis had been a television series for seventh grade on the United Nations agencies, and I have served on the United Nations Associations Board in Dallas, so I am elated to serve here. Generally the committee has been New York based, to keep down travel costs and to provide volunteers for the office. The great need for information about the United Nations as well as the Quaker Office to reach the rest of the country prompted changes in that policy.

I have sent two articles to the Friends Bulletin, which I have available here, explaining the structure and some of the ways the Quaker United Nations teams function. Therefore, I thought today to bring you up to date on one issue the office is following: Cambodia.

Yesterday I telephoned Stephen Collett, director of the Quaker United Nations Office, so that we could be brought up to date on the Security Council action on Cambodia.

This week the five permanent members of the Security Council met in Paris to consider an Australian proposal that the United Nations administer the Cambodian government during an interim period while 400,000 Cambodians in camps on the Thai border are returned to their homes prior to an election. The decision arrived at is devoid of details.
Quarterly Meeting

For ten years respected international non-governmental organizations, Quaker and other, such as Bread for the World, religious, etc. have been working with the Kmer people developing administrative skills, not with the Vietnamese government. The government in place is not a Vietnamese puppet government as it has been portrayed in the United States. The Kmer government has some suspicions of the United Nations where the Kmer Rouge holds the United Nations seat.

If the United Nations came in bringing Kmer Rouge in positions of power, the present government would refuse. What they are in favor of, and the non-governmental organization community favors, is called the Namibian model. There, the United Nations worked with the government in power (in that case South Africa), supervised the return of the exiles, in that case SWAPO, and administered the elections. The prime minister of Cambodia would welcome that approach.

Now the five permanent members will bring their recommendations to the full security council, ten other rotating members, and details of the proposal are to be worked out. The non-governmental organizations favor a solution that would be in the best interests of the Cambodian people. The present government now holds 99 per cent of the country. Though composed even of some former Kmer Rouge officials, it has been nurtured for ten years and is respected by international agencies working within the country. The Kmer Rouge has no popular support in Cambodia.

Stephen asked me if I see the New York Times, as their news columns do cover United Nations issues.

One way to become informed on these issues is to ask our local newspapers and broadcast media to report at some length on United Nations agencies and activities.

I would like to come to your meetings and present those aspects of the Quaker United Nations Office in which you are most interested. Please telephone me at (209) 795-7033 or write to Clare Galbraith, P. O. Box 4264, Dorrington, California 95223.

Food is not included in the above, as in Quaker expense accounts we consider one has to eat wherever we are.

Other expense:

5 times a year, I wish to report to all Meetings in the College Park Quarter, and eventually in Pacific Yearly Meeting. For twenty five copies and postage to Peace and Social Order Committees the cost will be:

25 x 25¢ postage: $6.25
25 copies at 15¢ 3.75

x 5 reports  $31.25

For 1989-90:

The first trip I used my frequent flyer bonus.
For succeeding trips, while the Delta Meeting suggested proceeding through Quaker channels for support, the Quaker United Nations Office advanced from their travel budget the $640.00 for the Delta coupon book as the most economical way to proceed. If the College Park Quarter could repay some of this from California Quakers, it would be helpful.
Southern California Quarterly Meeting has been in a year of self-examination. At last May's meeting the Nominating Committee reported that it had been unable to find a Clerk for the Quarter, and we focused on what our expectations of Quarterly Meeting are. Small group discussions led to several decisions at a plenary session:

1. The former Clerk would not be expected to continue on a temporary basis.
2. The Executive Committee, convened by the Clerk of Ministry and Counsel Committee, would carry on the functions of a Clerk.
3. An Ad Hoc Committee to Consider the Future of the Quarter would be formed and asked to bring suggestions.

In November, at Santa Monica, nearly the entire day's sessions concentrated on further dialogue which could guide the Ad Hoc Committee. We also approved the continuation of a Quarterly newsletter, an innovation that was begun on an experimental basis and which has been very well received. It replaces announcement fliers before each Quarterly Meeting and includes a calendar of Quaker events, descriptions of Quarterly plans and other news items. This newsletter has been sent to all Friends listed in the Southern California Directory who actually reside in the area.

Our annual Mid-Winter Fellowship was held in February at Pacific Palisades. This year we had no plenary session for business. Instead activities included a meeting of the Peace and Social Order Committee, worship-fellowship groups, interest groups and an inspiring talk by Tatiana Pavlova, a Russian historian who considers herself a Quaker. Valued opportunities for fellowship included an evening when children and adults played together as well as our Saturday evening Family Night show plus a barn dance.

The Ad Hoc Committee and Nominating Committee have been very busy and we approach the year's end with the news that we have a nominee for Clerk. We look forward to the Ad Hoc Committee's views of our condition and suggestions for the future.

HONOLULU FRIENDS MEETING
(A report for PYM Representative Meeting March 3, 1990)

We are happy to report that Honolulu Friends Meeting seems to be growing! We now have 93 members; 60 to 70 people often attend Meeting; about 25 come to business meeting. And we are especially happy to tell you that First Day School attenders often number 10 or 12. We stay in close contact with the Big Island Preparative Meeting, the Maui worship group, and the Kauai worship group, which meets under a palm tree on occasion.

We are trying to put our house in order. Member records are being reviewed and updated, as are committee clerk job descriptions that will serve as a reference for future new clerks.

Our Final Affairs Committee is preparing a booklet that will help us to plan ahead for death and will serve as a guide for family and F/friends.

We still struggle with uncertainty about the future of our thrift shop when two of our dedicated members retire in 1990 from managing it entirely on a volunteer basis. It is not easy to replace such dedication, for it calls for hard work and a lot of time. The thrift shop and our Fall Festival (which brought out 112 volunteers in October) raised $16,000 for AFSC and for our Meeting's Peace and Social Concerns activities.

We struggle inwardly too—as a meeting and as individuals. Perspectives of the role of the Peace and Social Concerns Committee within meeting varied, but we move in clearness now with the knowledge that this committee is a working group that helps monthly meeting develop concerns and makes recommendations for decisions to Meeting. We look forward to more participation in peace and social concerns by meeting members.

We are giving fresh attention to the responsibilities of membership, evidenced by a good turnout for a recent threshing meeting on the subject. What does it mean to be a member of Meeting? Taking for granted that Friends know how to carry out meeting responsibilities can result in confusion and lack of continuity.

And we are asking ourselves what it means to be "caring". We've had lively and helpful discussions on the meaning of a marriage "under the care of meeting". How do we express that caring? Are we "caring" about the "good order of Friends" in meetings for business? In committee meetings? Encouraged by PYM, we have had two helpful discussions on same-sex marriage.

And some of us are concerned because while we acknowledge that there is that of the Divine in everyone, we do not seem to recognize the "still small voice" when it speaks to us in the words of others. Do we listen for it during Meeting for Worship? Do we listen to what others are really saying?

Our Meeting House in Hawaii serves as a Quaker Center for seekers and travelers, who help us feel that the Pacific Ocean connects, rather than separates, us from the world around us.

La Jolla Friends Monthly Meeting approved this minuted letter on The National Budget February 11th, 1990 to be sent to Senators Cranston, Wilson and Congressman Lowery with a copy to President Bush.

February 11, 1990

The La Jolla Monthly Meeting of the Religious Society of Friends (Quakers)
7380 Eads Avenue
La Jolla, CA 92037

Senator Alan Cranston
U.S. Senate
Washington D.C. 20510

Dear Senator Cranston

We thank you for the years of public service you have given to our country.

In December 1986 The La Jolla Monthly Meeting of the Religious Society of Friends (Quakers) reiterated its support of our historic Peace Testimony as follows. "In the light of our faith and living in today's world, filled with weapons that threaten all life on earth, we declare our reliance on the power of God's love as our protection, implemented by loving and peaceful cooperation. We want no one to be injured or threatened by any violence in the name of our security."

Because of these beliefs and because of the incredibly swift turn in world events, we feel that there is now an unprecedented opportunity for the Superpowers to end the arms race. We believe it is time for our country to assume a responsible role in the search for world peace.

In his State of The Union address, President Bush proposed cutting Superpower troops stationed in Europe; we agree. The chief Soviet negotiator on conventional force reduction recently said that the Soviet Union is willing to negotiate a withdrawal of all foreign troops from Europe by 1995. We should take advantage of this rare opportunity to ease tensions on the Continent.

President Bush's budget proposal for fiscal year 1991 proceeds with plans for the development of yet another generation of conventional and nuclear weapons programs including the Stealth Bomber, the MX Missile and the Strategic Defense Initiative. We believe this to be morally wrong; particularly when the United States has a unique opportunity to meet a huge backlog of crucial human and environmental needs and a multi-billion dollar budget deficit. For the proposed budget cuts, the Administration has recommended that one half should come from domestic programs while only one sixth would be cut from military expenditures. We find these proposals unacceptable; we believe that military spending should be cut to increase funding for domestic programs.

We hope you will take the initiative in offering our Country concrete programs and legislation to feed the hungry, house the homeless, provide adequate health and child care and prevent drug abuse. We feel that the United States should take the lead in offering a world-wide plan for the environmental protection of our planet - an essential condition for the survival of all life.

Yours in Peace,

Judy Leshetka, Presiding Clerk

Minute on The National Budget

La Jolla Friends Monthly Meeting approved this minute on The National Budget February 11th, 1990 to be sent to Senators Cranston, Wilson and Congressman Lowery* with a copy to President Bush.

It was recommended that it be presented to Quarterly Meeting for its approval and be sent to Monthly Meetings for their use and through letters to the Editors etc., in their local publications.

We believe that we are stewards and as such we bear responsibility for the proper distribution of the wealth of our nation. In view of the dramatic changes taking place in Europe, we have now a great opportunity to move from a military economy to a peace economy. General Dynamics can build mass transit instead of missiles. We need trains, not tanks; roads, not rockets. Prefabricated housing could be mass produced at low cost which would help people to buy affordable housing. Our government should present the military-industrial complex with viable alternatives to weapons production by encouraging different lines of products. There should be a national government plan for practical and orderly conversion to a peace economy. By greatly reducing expenditures for weapons and military personnel, we can use the amount saved to solve social, health, housing and education problems. We have this amazing opportunity to have the idea of Micah 4:3 become reality.

"He shall judge among many people and rebuke strong nations afar off; and they shall beat their swords into plowshares, and their spears into pruninghooks: nation shall not lift up a sword against nation, neither shall they learn war any more..."

* Send to your local Congressman

The Peace and Social Order Committee Of Southern California Quarterly Meeting and the Peace Committee of Pacific Yearly Meeting each approved this minuted letter on the National Budget on February 16 and 17th respectively. All meetings are encouraged to send the letter to their local press and governmental representatives, including President Bush. The matter is currently being considered and, hence, is time-dependent to some degree. Allen Karcher for SCQM-P&SO;PYM-Peace

Children's Program Committee Report

Coordinator again will be Linda Koenig

We've asked for a modest increase in the budget for the Children's Program from $6,000 to $6,500 primarily for a small increase in salaries.

Agree as critical for a successful Children's Program. The 9-12 year old group needs to have separate program from the 5-8 year olds.

We plan to start the program on Sun. afternoon. Staff is to arrive for a dinner meeting on Sat. and set up on Sun. morning.

The afternoon W-F groups worked well last year. If we request a similar arrangement this year - notice to be given on the registration forms. W-F to start on Mon. afternoon. Unfortunately the only available times conflicts with afternoon art class. W-F groups with children should continue for the classics (more than maybe Re TV). We'd like to see no TV except as used for VCR's. There is some conflict about this among PYM attenders in general, e.g., adults vs. parents.

Re pool: We request a paid lifeguard at all times. We do not plan to lose the pool in the morning, and hope it will be unirresistable then.
Committee concern re salaries:

Raise a little each year rather than being faced with large increase.

Also point out that if pay for their own FYP1 expenses, do that a raise in fees results in a decrease on salaries.

The inclusion of $50 for supplies was mainly to allow for increased costs of things in general & the possibility that few of these would be donated.

Concern re asbestos removal.
SECRETARIAT COMMITTEE REPORT

The Secretariat committee has met twice since Yearly Meeting. We are confident of being able to serve in an even more competent manner next year. We'll maintain the relaxed and pleasant atmosphere that was appreciated in the committee service and duplicating area and also provide the more serene setting desired by recording clerks in a separate room. We will make our room needs specific to the arrangements committee.

We have evaluated our staffing arrangements and have determined the following positions:

- Co-ordinator: full time Sat-Sat filled, Hank Maiden
- Copier techie: 3/4 time Sat-Sat open
- Reception/MacFriendly: 1/2 time Sun-Sat open
- Miracle Worker: 1/2 night Sun-Fri open, possibly filled
- Minutes WP: 1/2 t. Mon-Sat possibly filled
- Packet Compiler: 1/2 t. Wed-Sun open

Our experience last summer has led us to insist on two copiers and an all-hours service contract. We do a tremendous volume of work; much of it on the weekend or after normal business hours. We have asked the finance committee to augment our budget to $400 more than last year's actual expenditure to meet this need as well as that of an additional 1/2 time person.

We have been fortunate that Friends have been willing to bring and lend us excellent computing equipment. If we had to rent the quality of equipment we've been using, we'd have to triple our budget. This year will be no exception. We'll need 2-3 electric, self-correcting typewriters, 5-6 computers, and 2-4 printers, (Brands? MacIntosh and PCs are the most commonly used and therefore easiest to share and pick up on.)

We will be purchasing recycled paper whenever possible and thinking of ways to reduce our prodigious paper output. We ask that committees and officers consider carefully how much paperwork they generate. Most of it is needed, we know! "For a non-fundamentalist group, Quakers are definitely dependent upon the written word and the Secretariat is the 'co-'."

Ministry & Oversight Committee has met twice since August; we shall meet once again, in June, prior to the yearly meeting. We have kept in touch with the work of the several committees under our care, and we have spent a good amount of time thinking about the structure of yearly meetings. Other considerations, related to the care of the membership, have also been.

Barbara Graves undertook a welcoming visit to Guatemala Monthly Meeting, our newest, and a visit to support and gatherings to Mexico City Monthly Meeting. The on-site visiting gives us a clearer idea of the meetings' work, challenges they face, what resources they have, what needs they have. Guatemala Meeting gathers twice monthly in various members' homes; their group is a small one, quite dedicated to each other. They were very appreciative of the yearly meeting interest and support as expressed through Barbara's visit. Mexico City Friends, with whom Barbara spent a few days, were glad for her presence and experienced counsel.

We wish to make special their oversight of nearby Ojai Worship Group. A January minute from Santa Barbara Meeting offers this. Mo O, being assured that there Meeting visitation, supports the recommendation that the F.M. accept and approve this relationship between Santa Barbara Meeting and Gyai Worship Group.

Reports from Sub-Committees

1) Sub-Committee on Special Funds reports healthy balances in the 3 funds under its care. No particular activity to report.

2) Sub-Committee on Worship: Fellowship Group. Functions mainly at yearly meeting.

3) Brinton Visitor Sub-Committee continues to explore with our sister yearly meetings (North Pacific & Intermountain) ways in which to make the next Brinton Visitor experience a good one.

4) Meetings and the Mentally Ill Sub-Committee has a few new members, and will continue to sponsor a sharing group at yearly meeting. Their focus will be less legislative, and more on providing assistance to meetings interested by the mentally ill.

5) Subcommittee on Monthly Quaker Process Workshops. This group has 2 northern and southern sub-groups, and both will be presenting workshops this spring.

The March 23-25 gathering at Ben Lomond
The text is titled, "Quaker Process De-mystified."

The workshop to be held in the North will focus on meeting for business.

5. Big Island Preparative Meeting Oversight Committee reports that the preparative meeting continues to be a vital force. An enjoyable retreat was held in January. Hōnōkūkū-based members of the oversight committee are in close touch, and a visit later this year by the NYM representative and clerk is planned.

7. Ad-hoc Committee on Structure. This committee, appointed last August, has met and held a wide-ranging series of conversations relating to the structure that might be learned from studying structures of other yearly meeting, what are unusual parts of our own structure, and what are suggestions for change. Attention was also given to monthly meeting's quarterly meeting format's content. This task committee recommended 10.00 that the sort of agenda for executive committee, composed of key committee clerks, be constituted to work with the preceding clerk in setting up the agenda for yearly meeting. M0.0 B consulted with the preceding clerk extensively about this recommendation and our and her thoughts about the structure of yearly meeting. (We have also solicited your input in an article in the January issue the Bulletin, and replies are still welcome.) Since the presiding clerk assistant clerk are reactivating the Agenda Review Committee, MoD felt that should be given a chance to function, rather than instituting a new committee for essentially the same function.

MoD requested the following interest groups at 4 PM:

1. Meetings and the Mentally Ill
   (plus sharing group to meet 3 or 4 times)

2. Explorations relating to the Right Ballet
   2 Yearly Meeting (we've asked the Acro Committee on structure to convene this)

3. What is Marriage? What does marriage mean to Friends?

4. An open MoD Committee meeting to have a corporate search around the topic, "What should MoD do to be helpful to monthly meetings concerned with the issue of same sex marriage?"
Mr. O also requests plenary time, preferably Monday evening (full session), for a substantial consideration. We also request, tentatively, 15-20 minutes of plenary time, at a later occasion during yearly meeting, if needed, perhaps time during a plenary session to report from the Structure Sub-Committee.

Mr. O wishes to bring to your attention some specific ideas we have considered about the form, substance of the August yearly meeting sessions. Now is not the time to discuss these; write us a letter or speak to a member of our committee or of the cabinet committee on structure.

1. How about asking YM committees to submit written reports beforehand?
2. How could the process of recording and reading minutes be less cumbersome?
3. What most speaks to your condition at 1 P.M.?
4. We would ask for patience and assistance as various yearly meeting bodies as they try to make Y.M. a better experience for us all.
Pacific Yearly Meeting - Peace Committee
Report to PYM Representatives Committee
March 3, 1990

The Peace Committee of Pacific Yearly Meeting met February 16 and 17, 1990, at Southern California Quarterly Meeting and reports the following actions:

3.90.1: The Peace Committee recognizes the spiritual strengthening afforded to Friends by community and supports Friends in such worship and fellowship. Therefore, the pace of business should not be so congested that fellowship is slighted. As a committee, we affirm that we need time in our lives to grow in Friendly community.

2.90.5: The Peace Committee recommends that PYM schedule no activities which convene any later than 9:30 P.M.

3.90.2: The Peace Committee urges support for the Friends, Brethren and Mennonite Witness at the Test Site on March 16-18, 1990, recognizing that such a witness is moved from the Declaration of Faith adopted by many meetings in PYM and supported by PYM 89 - 13.

3.90.3: The Committee asks Representatives Committee to endorse the following Minute:

2.90.1: The Peace Committee of Pacific Yearly Meeting requests that the Nominating Committee of PYM formally recognize the representation of Young Friends on the Peace Committee of PYM.

3.90.4: The Peace Committee requests the following interest groups at this years PYM:

A. "How Friends May Become More Involved in the work of the A.F.S.C."

B. "Quaker Service."

3.90.5: Peace Committee also requests a sharing group on the topic of "Living Our Witness."

Peace Committee will provide oversight and direction for the items requested in 3.90.4 and 3.90.5.

3.90.6: The Peace Committee proposes the following activity for Friends
Gathered at Chico:

2.90.3: The Peace Committee in unity with Young Friends recommends that a vigil be held on Wednesday, August 1, 1990, at Chico, to express our care for the integrity of creation. Laura Mahal will co-ordinate for Young Friends as this committee makes preparations for the vigil.

3.90.7: The Clerk of the Peace Committee requests that Finance Committee approve an increase of $200.00 in the yearly budget of the Peace Committee for the purpose of allowing some Committee meetings to be scheduled among C.P.Q.M. Representatives.

3.90.8: The Committee endorses the request from the Yearly Meeting Clerk to produce a State of the Committee letter and will attempt to have such a letter ready for this year's PYM.

Respectfully submitted,

Allen Karcher, Clerk
MEMORANDUM

To: Representative Committee, Pacific Yearly Meeting of Friends
From: Committee on Unity with Nature
Subject: Financing of the new magazine, EarthLight

This is an application for a grant of $2,000 to help defray the publication costs of EarthLight. We suggest that these funds be taken from the surplus generated by the recently laid down Social Order Series. We would also ask that any further funds arising from selling remaining copies of SOS publications be dedicated to the EarthLight magazine project.

Almost five years ago Pacific Yearly Meeting heard a powerful message from Marshall Massey about our responsibility for the deteriorating capacity of the earth to carry forward life and civilization. We were deeply moved to respond to this emergency. We took action, which included setting up a standing committee, starting a Newsletter, now called Befriending Creation, and holding several conferences. The Newsletter has now taken on a professional mien, with Chris Laning as its Editor, and many of us now depend on it for news of our spirit and the environment. Marshall spoke to Friends General Conference in 1987, after which a national Committee came together spontaneously, and a member of that Committee, Jack Phillips, became newsletter editor for two years. We have published (and sold 4,000 copies of) a most useful pamphlet by Jack Phillips called Walking Gently on the Earth, and we have shopping bags for sale with our Earth Care logo.

Now comes a big project, sponsored by your Committee, EarthLight magazine. We have worked on and seasoned this project for about three years, feeling the need to address issues of the Spirit and the Environment in greater depth than is possible in a six-page Newsletter. The magazine has finally come together, again under the professional editing of Chris Laning, who is working hard for little money on a project she loves, and for which we are asking your support. This publication is greatly needed, it is being well done (you have the first issue in your hand with this application), and we need your commitment to its financial health during this start-up phase. EarthLight will have a national circulation. It is directed mainly to Friends, and it will appeal to those of other denominations who are inclined to our views. The first two year's budget is attached hereto. It has been scaled to an absolute minimum of expenditures in an effort to break even in that time. Our experience seems to indicate that the goal of 2,000 subscribers is achievable if we work hard, and we have demonstrated a willingness to work hard.

Our current resources for managing this project are small, but with your support we believe the necessary funds will be forthcoming. We have $4,000 on hand after most of the expenses of the first issue have been met, and we are asking the National Committee for part of its small surplus from the good management of Befriending Creation. See the attached budget for other proposed sources of income.

Statistical Report

PYM Representative Committee, Palo Alto Meeting

March 3, 1990

The Hayward worship group continues to be strong. Not all memberships from the Hayward Meeting have been transferred as of this report. However, I am working with Elsa Glines to make this as smooth a transition as possible.

No new worship groups have been reported to me. Big Island continues as a Preparative Meeting.

Meetings and Quarterly Meetings should periodically evaluate the processes they use for the care and oversight of worship groups.

Betty L. Hall, Redwood Forest Meeting
Statistical Clerk
To: Representatives and Clerks of Monthly Meetings, Clerks of PYM Committees, and PYM Officers

Dear Friends;

You should have received a mailing last month about Representative Committee Meeting in Palo Alto on March 3 and, if needed, on March 4. Nevertheless, please read this letter: it contains some ideas I hope to present to you in March, but want you to have time to discuss and "season" before then.

You have probably seen the brief article in this month's Bulletin by Kitty Barragato, the Clerk of PYM M&O. I hope you have been discussing it with your committees and Meetings. Many Friends have expressed the sense that we need to consider the structure as well as the purposes of both Yearly Meeting and Representative Committee. It is difficult to have a really deep discussion given the time constraints we have accepted, so preliminary thought and discussion can be of great benefit.

The areas which I am aware that Friends perceive as needing our scrutiny are basically three, although there are ramifications and connections among them. First, the way we use our time together during the annual session of PYM in August. Second, the way we handle our Minutes recording our sessions. Third, the relationship of Representative Committee to PYM and the structure and purpose of the Committee. I have talked with a number of Friends, with the Clerks of some of the PYM Committees, and with M&O when it last met, and there are some suggestions which I hope to bring to you and to which I hope you will want to consider carefully both in March and during the ensuing months. I am offering the following ideas now in order that you can come prepared for the discussion which I expect we will begin this March and continue into the summer and beyond. I do NOT have any sense that any "final resolutions" will be contained in this letter or in our conclusions at Palo Alto, but I hope that our identification of the problems Friends have mentioned and our consideration of various solutions may help us find the way to use our time together during the Summer Session of PYM walking in the way of Truth and Love.

I was fortunate enough to attend a Retreat for Clerks of Yearly Meetings held in Chicago last Fall. There, I found that many Yearly Meetings have the annual reports of their committees in print prior to the holding of the Annual Session. I, myself, have experience of this procedure and I have found it helpful, since it provides an individual Friend with time to study and consider the work of each committee in advance of any item which the committee may bring to a plenary session. There are advantages to the Committees in that they can then use any plenary time they request in presenting new projects or ideas and having them seasoned with the greater body of Friends. And, sometimes, committees may find that they do not need plenary time in a given year.

"Annual Reports" could take the form of a sort of "State of the Committee" letter to all the rest of PYM. Committees might consider such queries as, "What have we been doing this year?" "What do we feel we must bring to PYM this year?" "Are there any actions or Minutes we wish to recommend for consideration and, if so, what is the background thinking which has led us to this position?" Some such seeking for clarity might prove to be beneficial in identifying the spiritual basis from which any particular action has sprung.

If any Committees are prepared to try the written Annual Report this year, I feel that they should be free - and even encouraged - to do so. Such action by a few Committees could give us some important information, not only about the reception and usefulness of the Reports but also about the use made of plenary time by committees which do this.

In listening to many reminiscences of Friends who have long been members of Pacific Yearly Meeting, and to the conversations among Friends today, it appears that both historically and presently Fellowship has been and is of great importance as a motivator for Friends to attend PYM.
At this time, we have developed one of the most ambitious schedules of Plenary Sessions among Yearly Meetings. Do we really need all of them? Do we really need to do all the business and hear all the presentations we do? Could we find other ways to share? Could Committees reach Friends other than at PYM (where, after all, only about 1/3rd — or fewer — of Friends in this Yearly Meeting are present)?

I think most of us are concerned that we Quakers help each other find the simplicity we seek, and yet don’t we sometimes seem to increase the complexity of each others’ lives by the requests and urgencies we lay on each other? We have long been concerned about the children and their parents and the stresses our programming seems to create. Could we find a way to have our evenings directed at younger people as well as adults? Could our evenings lead us to restful sleep with happy children so that we are restored and ready to do business in the mornings?

Perhaps in time, we might develop a pattern of “business” (or plenary sessions) early in the day, with afternoons for informational workshops or discussion of the substantive topics we wish to pursue, and evenings of intergenerational interests. Maybe we can even add that extra evening of “Community” which has been so often mentioned ... some year not too far away, perhaps.

Those of you whose positions would have you on the “Agenda Review Committee” (see p.70 in FAITH & PRACTICE) have probably been already reached by Marilee Eusebio, Assistant PYM Clerk, about the re-activation of this committee. The present design of this committee may not be what we will eventually come to, but most Yearly Meetings seem to find that it is helpful to have some group with particular care for the ongoing agenda. I believe that ours may be too large a body and therefore too awkward to be of optimum service to the Yearly Meeting, but it seems worthwhile to consider trying it again and to look toward making adjustments as needs are revealed.

As to the taking and reading or presenting of the Minutes of our proceedings, many suggestions have been made but we still seem far from clarity. One thing that clearly does help is to be able to hand the Recording Clerk a written copy — or at least an outline — of a report when it is about to be presented. Perhaps we will want to experiment with some methods of handling Minutes and include them in our evaluations. Please consider, before Representative Committee, (a) the possibility of having Minutes printed but not read at the following session, with copies available for all Friends present. In this design, only matters laid over and Minutes of Action would be read, or perhaps not even those. Consider, too, (b) the possibility of having the Minutes of a session read at the end of that particular session, to be approved by those who were actually present. In this design, how would Friends who missed a plenary session learn of the work which went on during it? Could we — or should we — try out these or other designs experimentally? Let us remember that Quaker documents have held a rare position as acceptable in the Courts and that they do so because of their clarity and accuracy. Our Minutes are historical documents of great worth. Truth has always been more highly valued among Friends than efficiency.

As we seek to find ways to make our Yearly Meeting serve the needs of the world and the concerns of Friends while it also conforms to God’s will for the right holding of human conclaves, let us be careful to use the tools of our own time with humility and care. In this day, we have a task to identify and cling to those things which are of genuine spiritual significance and to let go of some things which we do only out of sentiment or habit. At the same time, we need to be careful that we do not set up “Change” as an idol in its own right!

...it is probably clear to you why I asked you to read this letter. I think the tasks ahead of us will require the loving and patient seeking of all of us. I believe in the broadest possible base for decisions among us, for I am convinced that in corporate seeking, as in corporate worship, the whole is truly greater and wiser than the sum of the individuals.

The Finance Committee will meet on Friday, 3/2/90, in Palo Alto. Committees who are aware of changes in their budgetary requirements will greatly aid the work of the Finance Committee if their Clerks will communicate with Bob Young, Clerk, prior to that meeting.
If you have not already made your arrangements, here again are the names of the good Friends who are kind enough to handle housing, committee space, transportation, and meals:

Some important notes: Please let Nancy know if you need a bed or can sleep on the floor and whether you will be bringing a sleeping bag. Also let her know when you will be arriving. Please let Bart know your times of arrival and departure. Reimbursements for travel expenses come directly from the Treasurers for everyone except Monthly Meeting Representatives. Monthly Meeting Reps. should expect to receive travel funds from their Meetings, which will be partially reimbursed according to the PYM guidelines. Clerks of Subcommittees of the Yearly Meeting are reimbursed if they are requested to attend by the Clerk of their major Committee.

I am enclosing (1) a copy of a hand-drawn map for reaching the Palo Alto Meetinghouse, (2) a tentative agenda for Representative Committee on March 3, and (3) a tentative schedule for the PYM August Session. There will be adjustments with all of these, I feel sure, and I hope you will study them prior to Palo Alto so that our discussion there can be orderly and profitable.

The work of Representative Committee greatly influences the general condition of the Yearly Meeting sessions. Representative Committee has three major functions, spelled out in FAITH AND PRACTICE, p.65 and pp. 68-69. Attendance by Representatives or their alternates ("Observers") from as many Meetings and Worship groups as possible gives the Yearly Meeting decision process the opportunity to benefit from the widest group of Friends in PYM.

We have much to accomplish as we seek to find what is required of us and how best to serve our God, our world, and each other. We will accomplish it best if we come prepared in minds and in hearts and if we can each "clerk ourselves" while we meet together. As usual, our goal will be to complete our work on Saturday. To do this, we will need to start early (8:30 a.m.) and to help ourselves follow the good order of Friends. I look forward to our meeting together.

Yours in Peace,

Jane Walters Peers
