Pacific Yearly Meeting and The Pacific Coast
Association Of Friends

Held August 7 to 10, 1952, at Redlands, California

Epistle

To Friends Everywhere:

From our sixth Yearly Meeting, held this year in Redlands, California, we send you loving greetings. We feel and reaffirm our unity with all in the Religious Society of Friends. We would not be a separate part, but a member of the whole, of a house that is not divided.

Happily, we find ourselves here, as the pendulum swings back from the Oxford Conference. Recordings made there brought the message of deep and hopeful waiting on God much as we experience it in our sessions here. We, too, come from a thousand and more miles away; and the beginning of acquaintance ships for some, the joy of renewing them for others, and the unity of all who hold much that is dear in common, take up the beginnings of Yearly Meeting.

We find ourselves in the pain and joy of growth. We are far from settled and therefore far from static. New meetings, small shoots of growth just appearing above the surface, have the tender thought and cherishing of the Yearly Meeting. In the springing of the Life of God in the hearts of men lies our hope in these times of peril—peril not so much from outward enemies as from the darkening and hardening of human spirits.

We feel the shadow of distrust, of international conflict and fear of conflict, heavy upon the world. In our discussions, whether of conscription for war, or international tension, of the sufferings still so tragically present in many parts of the world, or of the Friendly education of our children, this dark shadow has been in our minds. Our hearts reach out to you as we seek for courage and light truly to live “in the virtue of that life and power that takes away the occasion of all wars.”

We feel a love which is both rich affection toward friends and deep reverence for the spirit within them. Like a strong web running through the whole fabric of our gathering it binds us together and to all people. We have prayed that we all may have faith, so loving God more, so loving man, so finding His Peace. In tranquility of spirit we hear the question and the answer: “Lord, what should this man do?” “What is that to thee? Follow thou me.”

Signed in and on behalf of Pacific Yearly Meeting,
PHILIP H. WELLS, clerk
RUTH SCHMOE, recording clerk

Minutes

The sixth annual session of Pacific Yearly Meeting, and the 22nd session of the Pacific Coast Association of Friends convened at Redlands, California, August 7, 1952, at 7:30 p.m.

The meeting opened with a period of worship. The Clerk announced a tentative agenda which it was hoped would serve as a guide to deliberations rather than a fast rule.

Reports from the following Monthly Meetings showed much lively growth and the problems of growth:
Vancouver Monthly Meeting—Edith Gorman
University Monthly Meeting, Seattle (with Tacoma and Missoula Preparative Meetings)—Carneua MacNichols
Willamette Valley Monthly Meeting (with Portland, Salem, Corvallis and Eugene Meetings)—Ellis Jump
Stockton Meeting—Catherine Bruner
San Francisco Meeting—Hubert Arnold
Berkeley Meeting—Tom Moore
Palo Alto Meeting (with Monterey, Pacific Grove, Watsonville Preparative Meetings)—Mary Hansen
College Park Meeting—George Petersen (who introduced Carlos Hermosillo Duarte of Mexico)
Los Angeles Friends Meeting (formerly Friends House Meeting)—Mary Kershner
Orange Grove Monthly Meeting—Frances Woodson
Riverside-Bedlands Meeting—Eubanks Carsner
Santa Fe Meeting—Jane Baumann
Albuquerque Monthly Meeting—Adrienne Wilda
Tucson Monthly Meeting—Julia Jenkins
Mexico City Monthly Meeting—Jean Duekles

No one was present from Honolulu, Shanghai or Victoria Meeting.

The reports showed growth in numbers and facilities in many places, while in a few Meetings the number remained the same. The Stockton Meeting is anticipating becoming an area Monthly Meeting including at least three groups: Stockton, Tracy and Modesto. All of the reports gave evidence of spiritual concern and outreach. Some Meetings deplored having no children, others almost more than they could care for; some Meetings were too small, and in one instance, too large. Educational retreats, small gatherings which promised to become established Meetings under the care of Monthly Meetings, and many other things give us cause for encouragement and faith in the power of our message, if we are faithful to the inner guide.

A tape recording from Pacific Yearly Meeting delegates and attenders at the Oxford Conference in England was heard. Six official delegates and fourteen others from our Yearly Meeting were in attendance. Frea Wav attended the Young Friends Conference at Reading, where 120 Young Friends of many languages and differing Quaker backgrounds came together and found all were accepted for what they were. Edwin Sanders reported from the Pacific Area Conference at Hampstead, England, that India, China and Japan Yearly Meetings are taking responsibility for the continuation of the Area Committee and that Pacific Yearly Meeting had been accepted as a member of the Pacific Area Section of the World Committee.

Frea Wav, Edwin Sanders, Vern James, Heberto Sein, Floyd Schmoe, William James, Harold Carson, Ruth Wendt, Peggy Church, Edna James, Anna James, and Marion Werner all spoke to us, and from them came the challenge of stretching our imagination and courage in the responsibility of reaching out in love to a world at war; the realization that unity of spirit and fellowship can be found even in diversity of opinion and methods; that life is all of one unit; that the greater the participation in worship, the greater the values; that the quality of our service is according to the quality of our lives; that we need never be discouraged because it takes much time to carry the message of love to the world. With these messages came their assurance that they were with us in spirit and in desire for a good Yearly Meeting. We felt this to be true.

After further introductions, announcements, and a period of worship, the meeting adjourned.

The Friday morning session opened at nine o'clock with a period of worship, during which time we received a message referring to God's spirit as a catalytic agent—an “unmoved mover.” We were encouraged to allow this “unmoved mover” to move us, and then to risk this catalytic spirit in the world about us.

Following these challenging thoughts, we were reminded that to do this takes much prayer and waiting, and were given this beautiful and helpful quotation:

To talk with God, no breath is lost. Breathe on.
To walk with God, no strength is lost. Walk on.
To wait on God, no time is lost. Wait on!

Following the worship, we heard interesting reports from the following Meeting groups:
Phoenix Monthly Meeting—Cleo Cox
San Fernando Meeting—Harry Bailey
Claremont Fellowship Group—Mildred Acor
Pasadena Monthly Meeting—John Walker
Unprogrammed meeting of Whittier—E. Roberts Richie
Santa Barbara Meeting—Adeline Zachert

Salt Lake City and Denver Meetings had been visited during the year, but no members were present. E. Roberts Richie brought greetings from New York Yearly Meeting, which had just closed.

Travel minutes for Joseph R. Karsner from Philadelphia Yearly Meeting, Race Street, and from Friends General Conference were read. These included greetings to our Yearly Meeting. Joseph Karsner is vice-chairman of the Peace Committee of the Philadelphia Yearly Meetings. He brought greetings from Edith Reeves Sollenberger, who was with us last year, and he introduced his wife, Katherine Karsner, who is traveling with him. Other introductions were made.

The Representative Committee reported on the business of their April 5th and August 7th meetings. The Yearly Meeting approved the following items:
1. Tracy Monthly Meeting was laid down in accordance with their request, because most of the membership have removed to other areas to intensify their Christian living; the Tracy Monthly Meeting clerk was advised to write a letter for each member which could be used as a letter of transfer. Stockton Monthly Meeting was asked to maintain contact with the remainder of the Tracy group. Northwest Quarterly Meeting is in contact with the members who have moved to Canada.
2. The committee suggested a five-minute written report from each Monthly Meeting, giving a concise picture of the life of the Meeting.
3. The committee asked that concerns to be presented at Yearly Meeting be presented to the Representative Committee prior to Yearly Meeting so that a tentative agenda could be made and circulated.
4. Yearly Meeting sessions should begin promptly and doors be closed during the worship period.
5. Since the Nominating Committee is extremely busy during Yearly Meeting, the committee felt that appointments to the Nominating Committee should be made by the Representative Committee at its winter meeting.
6. Benjamin Darling, Eubanks Carsner, Ferner Nuhn, Irving Morissett, and Margaret Jump were appointed on the Nominating Committee.
7. The committee recommended that the Reading Clerk digest the incoming Epistles prior to Yearly Meeting. The Epistle Committee should be responsible only for the outgoing Epistle and should be appointed before Yearly Meeting, with one member carrying over from the previous year.
8. Catherine Bruner, Jane Baumann, and Francis Dart were appointed to write the Epistle for the Yearly Meeting.
9. The Nominating Committee proposed the names of Randolph Jenks and Hubert Arnold to augment the present Finance Committee, to help with the formulation of the budget for the coming year.
10. Friends were reminded that mid-year is a low period financially and we need to build up a reserve.
11. The committee secured Francis Dart as a delegate to the C.O. Conference held in Evanston, to represent the Northwest, and arranged for Oscar Marshburn of California Yearly Meeting to represent Southern California.
12. It was suggested that some thinking be given to finding a better repository for the permanent records of the Yearly Meeting.

The Statistical Report was read and is attached to these Minutes. It was pointed out that the report had limited significance because of discrepancies in reporting from Monthly Meetings. The suggestion was made that the Secretary send duplicate report forms to each Monthly Meeting, one to be retained by the Monthly Meeting and one to be sent to the Secretary.

Robert Vogel gave an interesting and encouraging report from the Visitation Committee. They had arranged for the hospitality and visits of many traveling Friends, and for our own members in their concerns to visit. The committee had also assisted Francis Dart to attend the C.O. Conference in Evanston. Many other visits were reported outside the activities of the committee, among them being the visits to Ben Lomond and Denver Meetings.

Mary M. G. Hansen reported encouragingly on the information received by the Education Committee from a limited number of Meetings. The committee had hoped that more of the Meetings would send in reports. Very little is being done with young people of high school age. The committee urged that Young Friends be encouraged to participate more in their own Meetings, and in Yearly Meeting. More effort could be used in the understanding of the development of the Christian Life and understanding of the Quaker way.

The Education Committee proposed a workshop or conference on education in connection with the next Yearly Meeting, and called attention to a display of helps for use in Friends' religious education. The committee has available a graded list of children's literature.

The Meeting feels appreciation for the efforts of Mary Hansen in this committee's work, and shares the concern for the religious care of our children through youth into adulthood.

Joseph Karsner reported for the Friends Fellowship Council, bringing to us the importance of each Friend's feeling the concern of intervisitation. As a result of our membership in the new Pacific Area Section of the World Committee, we will not be a member of the American Section, but the tie between us and the American Section will be through the Fellowship Council.

The Clerk announced that the American Section of the World Committee will hold a meeting in Whittier next June 12 to 15, and that Friends are encouraged to attend. The appointment of fraternal delegates was referred to the Representative Committee which meets in mid-year.

After a short period of worship the meeting adjourned.

The Friday evening session began at 7:30 with a period of worship, during which very helpful messages came to us. In times of great uncertainty, it is helpful to remember that it is not that we bring light to others, but that we find the light in others and join ourselves with them as partners with God, thus finding freedom and release.

At the close of the worship period, the report of the Victoria Meeting was read, and we were heartened by their apparent and amazing account of success in the practice of love.

The Meeting introduced and welcomed Friends who had just arrived.

The Pacific Rim Committee report was read, and also a copy of the letter to the Pacific Area Conference meeting in Hampstead, England. A short report on "Houses for Hiroshima" was read for the information of members of the Yearly Meeting.

The report of the Discipline Committee was introduced by Eubanks Carsner, who asked each one to think of his own definition of the word "discipline." The generally accepted meaning is that it is a guide to Quaker faith and practice. The attempt of trying to formulate a discipline is in itself a great educational and inspirational exercise. Our aspiration should be to learn how to discipline ourselves.

The Reading Clerk read the prepared section of the Discipline dealing with the mechanics of our organization.

The question was raised concerning the advisability of continuing the Pacific Coast Association name. The Clerk was asked to make a poll of the groups and individuals of the Pacific Coast Association, asking if there is reason to continue the present organizational pattern. If there is, the Yearly Meeting feels it should be continued in order to maintain close fellowship with these Friends and friends of Friends.

It was agreed that we should set the goal of making some addition each year to the present core of the Discipline. Until our Discipline is completed, the committee was asked to suggest the supplementary use of the London Yearly Meeting Discipline and Howard Brinton’s Guide to Quaker Practice.

The Yearly Meeting approved the report of the Discipline Committee and authorized them to publish it, together with such corrections and additions as they feel necessary, for the consideration and temporary use of the Monthly Meetings.

The cost of child care during the sessions is estimated to be $52.50. Henrietta Darling agreed to receive contributions, hoping that all who can will accept the privilege of sharing in this service so that parents can participate in the deliberations and worship of the Yearly Meeting.

After a short period of quiet waiting, the meeting adjourned. . . .

The Saturday morning session opened at 9 a.m. with a period of helpful worship, after which the Reading Clerk read excerpts from the following Epistles: the three Canadian Yearly Meetings, meeting jointly; German Yearly Meeting; Fitchley General Meeting; Ireland Yearly Meeting; Wilmington Yearly Meeting (Five Years); the two New York Yearly Meetings, meeting jointly.

The Epistles were in accord with the desire for retaining a sense of the sacredness of the individual, the patience to seek God’s will, wisdom to interpret it, and courage to follow it; also, the desire for an undivided life by following the path of love, truth and non-violence free from pride, love of power and ease, and from discouragement. They expressed the concern to find channels for loosening world tensions, and prayed that Friends everywhere increasingly enrich the whole of their lives with the fuller expression of love which is able to draw all men closer to God.

Robert Fordham reported for La Jolla Meeting and gave a very heartening report of growth and development there, and of their interest in Pacific Yearly Meeting. They have 17 members, with twenty to twenty-four persons in attendance each Sunday.

Edith Peckham spoke effectively for the Pasadena Monthly Meeting.

Joseph Karsner was asked to introduce the report of the Friends Committee on National Legislation. He assured us that never before in our history have Friends been so challenged in matters which concern us. The committee is concerned about the bill on Universal Military Training, which has gone back to committee and will come up again.

We were reminded that 38 years elapsed between the time when John Woolman began to talk against slavery and the time when the Society of Friends were willing to do anything about it. It takes a long time to accomplish these things.

We should be interested in:

1) The appropriations bill in support of the United Nations. The committee feels it is perhaps our last greatest hope in the present day dilemma.

2) The Bricker Resolution, which takes away the right of the President and the Secretary of State to make treaties. The F.C.N.L. opposes this bill.

3) The Point Four Program. The committee is especially interested in the addition to the bill of cultural interchange.

4) Civil liberties. The committee is now mainly concerned with the problem of loyalty oaths.

5) Race relations. The belief that there is that of God in every man makes necessary the promotion of fair employment practice legislation.

Joseph Karsner asked these questions:

“What do you do in your own Meeting about these matters?”

“What impact does your Monthly Meeting and your Yearly Meeting have on the area which it covers?”

The Clerk read his endorsement of Joseph Karsner's travel Minutes. The Meeting approved it, with the inclusion of Katherine Karsner's name.

Elinor Ashkenazy reported for the Southern California work of the Friends Committee on National Legislation. The local committee had worked for the period during which we were opposing UMT and wished to ask for more cooperation from members of the Yearly Meeting in working on legislative concerns that will be forthcoming during the next session of Congress. She stressed the importance of each member's keeping progressively informed through the FCNL Newsletter.

Irving Morrissett of Northern California reported further, urging all to subscribe to the Newsletter by writing to 104 C Street, N.E., Washington 2, D.C., enclosing a minimum of $2.00 a year.
Pacific Yearly Meeting Friends, together with Friends of California Yearly Meeting in Northern California, are now in the process of establishing a Friends Committee on Legislation of Northern California, which will be in effect a regional office of the F.C.N.L. and also a Friends Committee on Legislation on state and local levels. They hope that through such an organization they can much more actively support the F.C.N.L. and carry out local legislative concerns. The work is undertaken with the conviction that Friends have a responsibility to help in shaping wise legislation, especially in the areas of peace and human dignity.

Francis Dart reported on the meeting at Evanston, Illinois, on the relationship of Friends to conscription. He brought us up to date on negotiations between Friends and Selective Service.

The Yearly Meeting approved the following Minute concerning the draft of conscientious objectors:

"We are grateful to the workers of the American Friends Service Committee for their persistence and patience in carrying on negotiations with Selective Service. We are also grateful for the progress which has been made by the government in dealing in more creative ways with conscientious objectors, who constitute a troublesome minority. We are happy that Selective Service is attempting to provide an opportunity for these men to make a contribution to the welfare of society which their consciences will permit, within the framework of the draft law.

"We feel, however, that as long as the situation exists—as stated by General Hershey—that if the A.F.S.C. entered into an arrangement to employ drafted C.O.'s it would be acting as an agency of Selective Service, Friends through the A.F.S.C. should not enter into such an arrangement. We do not want to be in the position of administering the Selective Service Act.

"We urge the Service Committee to continue and expand the counseling service for C.O.'s as way opens. We also remind ourselves that we must work harder to prepare our young men for their contact with Selective Service. We must also stand with them and behind them as they seek to follow the Inner Guide, while faced with the encroachment of the draft law on their lives."

After a few minutes of silence, the meeting was adjourned.

The Saturday evening session of the Yearly Meeting began at 7:30 p.m. with a period of worship. Preceding this session Leslie Spelman played for us on the organ. Our worship was helped by music used in the Catholic Mass to express the feeling at the time the spirit and the life of Christ is supposed to become real in the worshipping group. This Presence we have felt in our meetings.

Portions of the following Epistles were read: Sweden Yearly Meeting; Baltimore Yearly Meeting (Homewood); Western Yearly Meeting (Five Years); Denmark Yearly Meeting. They restated our faith that there is a God who seeks us out in all our self-imposed barriers and who grants that every faithful seeker shall find His. They expressed the yearning to be set free from the fears about us through the power of faith and love, and reaffirmed our faith in the sacredness of every human soul.

The Reading Clerk also read the Peace Testimony as restated by the Japan Friends Service Committee, which made firm their stand that they do not seek security in the armament of any nation or group of nations, wholly trusting in the security of disarmament and good will. They deplore the loss of their neutrality due to the signing of the Peace Treaty and Security Pact, which were signed at San Francisco last September. Their plea is to cut the vicious circle of war through prayer, generating a circle of peace. The Yearly Meeting asked that this peace statement from the Japan Service Committee be printed in full in the Bulletin.

A special session held during the afternoon is summarized in the following report:

"The American Friends Service Committee film, 'A Time for Greatness', was shown, and comments on its use invited. The consensus of opinion was that so much is brought up in the film that cannot be fully developed in the time, the most helpful use of it requires a speaker or a panel, or leader of discussion accompanying its showing. A wish was expressed that other ways of making peace beside horse-trading negotiation might be suggested, the way summed up as 'Point Four', for example.

"This was followed by an hour's discussion of experience and problems presented by cooperation with 'left-wing' groups. Many aspects of the question were brought out without time for working through our diversities. We agreed, however, that we could not knowingly lend ourselves to deviousness or hypocrisy, nor could we draw back as 'holier than thou' from individuals as such, even though their approach to peace may differ from ours. We were reminded that we must seek our direction from God deep within us, not from ourselves, doing only what we have strength to do well, and that while Jesus' manner of working was not that of tax collectors and sinners, he did not shun them as people."

An excellent Treasurer's report was given by Robert Simkin and much appreciation was expressed for his good work. A copy of his report is attached to these Minutes.

Margaret Jump reported for the Bulletin Committee, covering the past year and presenting an estimated budget for the coming year. The total cost of the Bulletin was $2.084.08. The committee hoped that it might become more self-supporting but were anxious for all the members and others who profit by the Bulletin to receive it. The estimated budget for next year totalled $2400.

Esther Richards, editor of the Bulletin, reported that she had had contacts from all over the world, with people who were thinking important things and doing important things. Some touching letters had come of encouragement and comfort, received through the Bulletin. There is a purpose for us in the Pacific Yearly Meeting and the Bulletin Committee hopes that the paper will have at least a small share in fulfilling this purpose. The Bulletin Committee's report was approved and is attached to these Minutes.

The Finance Committee, reported by Ellis Jump in the absence of William James, recommended that the balance of the Oxford Travel fund $179.32, be used for the travel of delegates over the Yearly Meeting for reporting the Oxford Conference. Both the treasurer's books and those of the Bulletin had been audited. The Treasurer has recommended that all amounts for the Bulletin be sent direct to Esther Richards, editor, and that all other money be sent to the Yearly Meeting Treasurer. A budget was submitted for the following year. After some changes and additions, it was approved as follows:

INCOME
- From Monthly Meeting contributions: $2,000
- From Bulletin subscriptions: 1,000
- From individual contributions: 325

Total: $3,325

The report of the Finance Committee was approved and is attached to these Minutes.

A stimulating presentation on the subject of the relationship of members of the Society and the American Friends Service Committee was made by David Walden of the Southwest Regional Office of the A.F.S.C. His first question was, “Can the A.F.S.C. honestly use the word ‘Friends’ in its name when (1) funds are largely contributed by people outside the Society, (2) when such a large part of the committee’s work is done and paid for by non-members, and (3) when the projects are not a unified aim for and agreeable to all Friends?”

He felt that we need to think whether Friends are becoming infected with a disease common in America and known as “absentee stewardship”—a disease which divorces the giver from the thing he wants done. David Walden felt that the justification for using the word “Friends” in the A.F.S.C. rests upon these things—if implemented:

1) enthusiasm and optimism for the potentiality waiting in the hearts of Friends.
2) feeling that we are bound only by our courage and faithfulness.
3) emphasizing the relevance of worship to creative action.
4) placing worship and action before words.
5) the capacity to appreciate suffering and loneliness.
6) the capacity to love both sides.
7) the capacity to do things over and over, often without visible result.
8) capacity to trust “that of God” in others, thus enabling delegation and meaningful organization to plan and execute.
9) desire to listen.
10) simplicity of understanding which brings peace of mind to those who fear.
11) a dedication to continuous stewardship rather than absentee stewardship.
12) generous forgiveness of others and even of self.
13) realization that staff and committees love each other and are human beings as well as children of God.
14) the capacity to laugh.

Serious questions followed this report: “Is the A.F.S.C. comparable to the hireling ministry?” “Is the A.F.S.C. helping to create absentee stewardship in methods of raising funds and paid personnel?”

We were all helped in finding that not only were many Friends aware of the problems involved in financing the A.F.S.C. and of the dangerous deadening effect of professionalized fund-raising for large-scale operations, but that the personnel of the A.F.S.C. themselves are continually troubled and sensitive to these dangers.
Carlos Hermosillo Duarte spoke of the increased understanding between the people of Mexico and the United States through the efforts of the A.F.S.C. work there. The problem is how can we continue this much-needed work and not fall prey to these dangers of professional (or hireling) ministry, the creation of absentee stewardship, and the growth of spiritual pride on the part of Friends.

These contributions followed: We ought never to approach an individual asking for funds unless we feel he is being given an opportunity which will be of value to him. The Service Committee is in reality attempting to minister to men’s souls, to build personality, and to change men’s lives by making real to them opportunities to become troubled about the conditions of the world—we need to be stirred and concerned.

The hour was late, but the Meeting wished to hear the report on Indian affairs. Randolph Jenks read the report of Ann Salyer for the committee:

I. Indian Center: As has been noted in the Friends Bulletin, the Indian Center at Los Angeles has moved and Alice Shoemaker is still director. Most of their activities have already been reported in the Bulletin.

II. Various Meetings’ activities:
1. Phoenix Meeting has worked with the San Carlos, Apaches, and the Maricopa Indians, as well as in association with the Phoenix Indian Center.
2. The Flagstaff group of Friends has been working with the Hopi Indians.
3. It is known that several Meetings in Washington, Oregon, and in other areas have had projects with Indians in those areas, and it is hoped they will give reports of their activities.
4. Hopi and Navajo visitation has continued this summer, and Phoenix and Tucson Meetings have started on a small scale a program of visitation for Papago children.

III. A.F.S.C. office: Friends in Arizona are grateful that the Indian office of the American Friends Service Committee has moved to Arizona where the Indians of various tribes need their help, and Friends wish to be of assistance to the Service Committee wherever possible.

IV. Seri: The Seri Indian project will be separately reported at this session.

Indian Representative of Pacific Yearly Meeting,

ANN SALYER

Various individual Friends and Meetings have given time, money and encouragement to this work. The San Carlos, Apache, Maricopa, Hopi, Navaho, Seri, and also various groups of Indians in the Northwest, have been visited and worked with in different ways.

Randolph Jenks then gave a report of conditions in the Seri tribe on the coast of Mexico. The A.F.S.C. has a five-year project of education and rehabilitation with the Seri; the financial success of this project is dependent on the funds contributed to the Pacific South West Regional Office of the A.F.C.C., by individuals and Meetings. He hoped that this project would be a special concern of each of the Meetings in the Yearly Meeting.

After a few moments of quiet worship, the meeting adjourned.

The final session began Sunday afternoon at 2 p.m. with a period of worship.

Excerpts were read from some of the following Epistles: Indiana Yearly Meeting (Five Years); Norway Yearly Meeting; Iowa Yearly Meeting (Conservative); East Africa Yearly Meeting; Philadelphia Yearly Meeting (Arch Street); France Yearly Meeting; Jamaica Yearly Meeting; Ohio Yearly Meeting (Damascus); Oregon Yearly Meeting; Ohio Yearly Meeting, Barnesville (Conservative); Illinois Yearly Meeting (General Conference); Indiana Yearly Meeting (General Conference). All these Epistles reflect a sense of deep concern for the world’s ills, and call upon Friends everywhere to lay hold of the illimitable power of God and live lives of true faithfulness to Him.

The following Minutes regarding the taking of special oaths was approved:

“We affirm our opposition to the requirement of special oaths as a test of, or means of establishing, loyalty with regard to certain doctrines and organizations. We feel that such action, whether legislative or unofficial, is particularly undesirable in the present atmosphere of fear and distrust. While it can have little if any positive effect in improving the moral fibre and integrity of public servants and others, it can be a factor of far-reaching proportions in curbing freedom of thought and freedom of action at a time when free actions and free thought are particularly vital for the life of our nation and our civilization.”

The matter of a delegation of American Friends to China or Russia was introduced through a letter from Edwin Sanders. After considerable discussion, the following Minute was approved:

“This Yearly Meeting has heard with interest the suggestion that a group of American Friends go to Moscow and/or Peiping. We would like to send our encouragement and prayers with such a team if way is opened for them to go. Such a mission must be one in the service of Truth, and we would like to suggest that our member, Heberto Sein, would be one who could contribute greatly, both because of the international character that his presence would give, and because of his great spirit and statesmanlike quality.”

It was suggested that the Yearly Meeting have a Committee on Indian Affairs. This was approved and the Nominating Committee was asked to bring forward names to serve.

Frances McAllister summarized some of the more formal educational projects in the Pacific Yearly Meeting:

1) Nursery school under the care of College Park Monthly Meeting
2) Pacific Oaks Friends School:
   a) Nursery school with 111 children
   b) Community education
   c) Nursery school teacher training

3) Pacific Ackworth, with 53 children, a third of whom are from Friends’ families.

She also reminded us that Friends carry on their educational function through work camps, institutes, seminars, the Bulletin, radio, television, and newspapers. These many efforts and more are needed if we fulfill the purpose of extending the knowledge on which we depend for effectively practicing our faith.

The report of the Nominating Committee was given and approved as follows:

The following Epistle was read and approved, with the direction that it be sent to Friends everywhere. (Note—the Epistle is printed on page 1 of this Bulletin.)

The Meeting approved the dates of August 13 to 16 for the 1953 Yearly Meeting, to be held in the Bay Area, and appointed Vern James to organize a local committee on arrangements.

The Yearly Meeting was very grateful to Leslie and Muriel Spelman and many others for the great effort they have made to provide for our comfort. We have found everything arranged to enable us to devote full time to our meetings and our fellowship together. We are grateful to Alice Harris, Julia Jenks, Frances Woodson and others who have helped Leslie Spelman and the Clerks. We want to express our thanks to Redlands University and the members of the staff who have served us.

The Yearly Meeting Secretary was instructed to write letters of appreciation to the following: Dr. George H. Armacost, president; Larry H. Huidon, business office, who made detailed arrangements; Margaret MacKensie, dietician; Margaret Donaldson, infirmary nurse; Anne Parker, head resident; Gladys Rarden, head resident; Rex Vincent, Supt. of buildings; Mrs. Laura Lennox, child care.

The Meeting wished Tucson Friends to carry a message of love to Arthur and Tacy Binns and tell them that we have missed them.

Several Friends voiced a concern at the lack of contact between work camps and other A.F.S.C. projects and the life of the Society of Friends. The following Minute on the subject was approved:

"We have become aware of the meager con-connection between us as members of the Society of Friends and the A.F.S.C. work projects. We recognize that we must assume more responsibility for making the life of our Society felt in these projects.”

After a period of worship the Pacific Yearly Meeting of Friends and the Pacific Coast Association of Friends adjourned to meet again in California (Bay Area), August 13 to 16, 1953. It has been good to be here, to struggle with the problems of our life together, to try to understand one another, and to know one another in the things that are eternal.

STATISTICAL REPORT OF PACIFIC YEARLY MEETING OF FRIENDS
August 1952

Seventeen of the eighteen member Monthly Meetings replied to the questionnaire sent out by the secretary May 15, 1952: Albuquerque, Berkeley, College Park, Honolulu, Los Angeles, Mexico City, Orange Grove, Palo Alto, Riverside-Redlands, San Francisco, Santa Fe, Stockton, Tucson, University (Seattle), Vancouver, Victoria, and Willamette Valley. Mail has been returned from Shanghai, unclaimed.

There is much variance in the method of recording membership. Many of the Meetings are making an effort to obtain accurate records. Some Meetings indicate great care in this respect.

Below are some figures summarizing the results of the questionnaire:

Total number of members ........................................ 961
Number of children and young people under care of Meeting, both members and non-members ....................... 456
Additions in membership:
  By conversion ................................................. 62
  By transfer .................................................. 39
  By birth ..................................................... 15
Losses:
  By death ..................................................... 17
  By transfer .................................................. 21
  By release ...................................................  5
Number of First-day Schools .................................... 13
Meetings which read the Queries regularly, or portions thereof ...................................................... 4

The above portion of the report has to do with figures, which are important for the purpose of records. The following list of Friendly activities is very impressive and challenging. The promptings of the spirit which sends us out into the world to do what we can to make it truly more Christian indicates that Friends are endeavoring to "be about their Father's business." We find them serving in countless ways in the community, in work camps, in all the projects of the Service Committee, counselling C.O.'s, assuming entire responsibility for Displaced Persons, migrant worker needs, work for the blind in Japan, Houses for Hiroshima, student work in Hong Kong, local Councils of Churches, discussion groups on UMT, aid to German families, special meetings for visiting Friends, religious retreats, alertness to all racial problems, F.O.R., narcotic problems, CARE packages—the list might easily be continued, but it is evident that Friends do have "concerns" and try to do something about them.

There has been almost universal use of the two study pamphlets on "The Vocation of Friends in the Modern World." This has not only been a unifying experience for all of us, but it has linked us with groups of Friends all over the world, and we now feel drawn especially close to them as they assemble in Oxford, England.

One new Meeting is hereby recorded, that of Tacoma, Washington, which is a Preparative Meeting of University Meeting, Seattle.

ELIZABETH M. LANTZ, Secretary

REPORT OF THE BULLETIN COMMITTEE

The Bulletin has been published ten times this year: A Yearly Meeting issue of 12 pages, four issues of 8 pages, and five issues of 4 pages. Twenty-three countries, thirty-eight states and two territories are represented on the mailing list. The paper goes to approximately 1120 persons, 465 of whom have subscribed a total of $1066.20 ($2.28 per subscriber). Two Monthly Meetings have made contributions, as Meetings, to the Bulletin.

The total cost of publishing the Bulletin this year was $2084.08, as follows:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Item</th>
<th>Cost</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Printing</td>
<td>$680.50</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Mailing</td>
<td>147.48</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Editor's salary</td>
<td>1,080.00</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Office expense</td>
<td>176.10</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

$2,084.08

Although the subscription price set by the Yearly Meeting is "at least a dollar," the actual cost of mailing and printing was $1.86 a subscriber this past year, the difference being provided from Yearly Meeting funds.

The Bulletin Committee hopes that the Bulletin may become more self-supporting, but also is anxious for all members of Pacific Yearly Meeting and others who enjoy the Bulletin to receive it even if they are unable to make a contribution. We hope that it will become a general practice for Monthly Meetings to make sure each year that all of its members are receiving the Bulletin and also periodically to send names of new members or regular attenders to the editor of the Bulletin. This past year individuals in four Meetings were very helpful in canvassing their Meetings for new subscriptions and renewals. We look forward to having such a person in each Monthly Meeting.

We recommend that the Bulletin again publish 10 issues with Esther Richards as editor and at a subscription of "at least a dollar." For this we suggest the following budget:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Item</th>
<th>Cost</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Printing</td>
<td>$850.00</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Mailing</td>
<td>150.00</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Editor's salary</td>
<td>1,140.00</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Office</td>
<td>260.00</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

and we propose that $1.00 or more be raised by subscriptions, making the net cost of the Bulletin to the Yearly Meeting $1.40 or less.

The expense of publishing the Bulletin always gives the appearance of being a disproportionately large part of the Yearly Meeting budget. We need, however, to remember that the Bulletin is exceptional in being the only large project undertaken by the Yearly Meeting as such. It is the chief means of communication within our Yearly Meeting which covers so large a geographic area. The many concerns which are supported by the Monthly Meetings and by Friends individually, while amounting to a very large total, never have been channelled through Yearly Meeting and therefore have never appeared in its budget.
